The above items are just suggestions. Capture your own memories and be creative - think outside the box!

Here is my favorite autumn memory photo: visiting the pumpkin patch with my niece, Olivia and nephew, James.

Quick Garage Organize Tips

No matter if you purchase an expensive custom garage storage system or just hang a few hooks for your bikes, investing in your garage is a good idea. Hey, you might even fit your car in there once it's organized!

* Think of your garage in terms of zones: automotive, gardening, sports, tools, toys, etc. Consolidate items for easy retrieval, placing items as close as possible to where they will be used. For example, keep gardening accoutrements in a large basket by the outside door. Set recycling bins right next to the interior door. Put tools near the workbench.

* Install pegboard on one wall. Use hooks to hold tools and gardening equipment. Pop in brackets and you can install shelving as well. Then use labeled jars or a multi-drawer storage system to separate small pieces of hardware.

* Get things off the floor and onto the walls and ceiling. Install inexpensive hooks to hold bikes, rakes, brooms, sleds, ladders, and hoses. Install cabinets and shelving along the back or side walls.

* Make it easy for kids to access and put away their own stuff. A tall can will neatly hold hockey sticks, baseball bats, and other long items. Corral balls in a large bin.

* Finally, keep a fire extinguisher handy, mounted on the wall.

What is your favorite childhood Halloween memory?

Mine was being a Witch, Punk Rocker, or a Bum for Halloween. I was never a Princess. Also, as I waited for it to get dark enough outside for me to go Trick-or-Treating, my Mom would always fix me chicken noodle soup with saltine crackers to eat before going out. And lastly, there was one Halloween night that it was raining so much that my Mom made me wear a rain coat over my witch costume. Well, how is anyone know what I am if my rain coat is over my costume? I then convinced her that I could still wear the rain coat but it had to be under my costume so everyone would know that I was a witch.

So, please share your favorite childhood Halloween memory.
